The background noise of the other exhibits made it impossible to hear the classic North east comedy. Otherwise good				X
Very well put together. Nice to see all the Greats of Comedy in one place. Like the lounge too [comedy club area]				X
I enjoyed the comedy corner. Especially the disco ball.				X
Excellent. Bringing back lots of memories	X
A good adult exhibition. But why the children's corner?			X
Was very good. Enjoyed watching the comedy and loved all the pictures. It was great!!!				X

Really enjoyed it. Very good. Especially enjoyed the TV corner				X
What! No George Formby nor Bob Monkhouse? George was the biggest box office draw for comedy in films in the late 30s/early 40s. Otherwise, very good.			X
Excellent. More shows like this please			X
Very very good/true to life/accents excellent [North East film]				X
I liked the quotes on the orange wall and the pictures of Russell Brand				X
Great to see the faces of comedy, some gone but never forgotten			X
Is this meant to be a museum or a nursery?			X
Great to see all the genius of comedy in one room. A marvel!	X
Some real omissions are WOMEN – where are June Whitfield? Sheila Hancock? And many contemporary women comics other than the few here. Does the national Gallery not have their portraits? Women are always marginalised in the art world so don't add to it!			X

Was very surprised not to see Eddie Izzard and Bill Bailey, 2 of the most popular contemporary comedians and my favourites as they are surreal and don't rely on prejudice for humour! Some interesting comedians from the past that I hadn't heard of though	X		X
Really good. I will certainly come here again. Good range of comedians (but no Michael Bentine with the Goons)					X
Very good portraits and information about comics through the decades	X
Very good, some brill photos!				X
Awesome, but you really should've featured 'The Mighty Boosh' starring Noel Fielding and Julien Barrett			X
Excellent exhibition. Your staff are helpful too. Enjoyed it				X
Titfilarious!!! Another good exhibition. However, where were the Northerners?			X
Very interesting. Excellent older photos	X
Where's Charlie Chester?			X
Hugely enjoyable – encore!				X

Excellent photos and exhibition. The sounds in the NE comedians room is a bit too loud!				X
Really good – made us laugh								X
Well worth seeing			X
A superb exhibition. Some of the best comedians use pathos and terrible social conditions in their sketches. Great! It raises people out of their misery								X
Fantastic collection of the country's best comedians. Brilliant pictures. Excellent exhibition	X
Excellent. Where are the Two Ronnies!			X

Brought lots of laughs, especially the video! We had an interview with our late scouthall caretaker. Fab memories (they can't take them away!)								X
