Document developed by Plymouth
Comedians Publicity of Events to Young People

To promote the events Plymouth organised for young people, they sent out this flier direct to young people giving full details of the events and how to book.

Comedy and Drama Events at Plymouth City Museum and Art Gallery

Our forthcoming exhibition, 'Comedians: From the 1940s to Now' (15 August to 10 October), will feature photographic portraits from the National Portrait Gallery of some of Britain's most well-known comedians from the last 70 years! In connection with the exhibition we are offering the following for 15 to 25 years olds:

Laugh A Minute

A comedy and drama workshop session
Saturday 26 September, 1pm to 4.30pm

Work with Plymouth-based actor, Andy Blackwell, on areas such as impersonation, joke telling and timing. An ideal event for any keen jokers and pranksters to test out their best material! Improve your communication skills, presentation skills and self confidence and have a laugh!

Admission is free but please book your places in advance by calling 01752 304774.

Funny Side Up

An evening event packed with humour and entertainment
Friday 2 October, 6.30pm to 10pm

See performances by professional stand-ups Geoff Whiting and Lou Cox and the Dynamic Youth Dance Company, enjoy marathon Monty Python-watching and the 'Comedy Conveyor Belt' - an open stage for young people to showcase their talents! Free admission. No need to book in advance. This event is being organised by our youth forum, The Core.

Anyone who would like to perform their own sketch inspired by a classic comedy performance at the event can apply now! Entry forms and rules are available to download from www.plymouth.gov.uk/museumspcialevents The closing date for submissions is Friday 14 August.
